DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Group I (claims 1-10) in Paper No. 4 is acknowledged.

2. Claims 11-31 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected Group II, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in Paper No. 4.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.
- 4. Claims 1-4 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Tani et al. [US 6,335,077].

Tani et al. disclose in Fig. 1 (also see attach for details) an electronic structure comprising: a first dielectric layer (3, lower layer) of polymeric material (col. 4, lines 58-62, it is noted that polyvinyl butyral is polymeric material) having a first top surface; a second dielectric layer (3) of polymeric material on the first top surface of said first dielectric layer of polymeric material, having a second top surface, said second layer of polymeric material also having trench (5) features therein; and electrically conductive material deposited in said trench features forming electrically conductive circuit lines being substantially flush with said second top surface of said second dielectric of polymeric dielectric material.

Application/Control Number: 09/804,921

Art Unit: 2841

As to claim 2, a third dielectric layer (3, middle layer) of dielectric polymeric material located on the conductive circuit line.

As to claims 3-4, wherein the electrically conductive material is copper.

As to claim 10, at least two of the structure of claim 1 stacked together.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 6. Claims 5-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tani et al in view of Kunota et al. [US 6,183,669].

As to claims 5-6, Tani et al. disclose all claimed subject matter except for a polymeric material of first dielectric layer different than a polymeric material of second dielectric layer.

Kubota et al. disclose in Fig. 1 a polymeric material of first dielectric layer (2c) (i.e. polyvinyl alcohol) different material of polymeric material of second dielectric layer (3) (i.e., polyvinyl butyral) (see col. 10, line 57- col. 11, line 9; col. 12, lines 40-50).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to employ the polymeric material of the first dielectric layer different than the second dielectric layer, as taught by Kunota et al., for obtaining excellent dispersing property and processing performance and enhancing development ability of insulating or dielectric layer. Furthermore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to the material of first dielectric different than the second dielectric layer, since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice.

In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.

7. Claims 7-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tani et al.

Tani et al. do not disclose the circuit line about 0.5 to 1 mil wide, 0.5 to 2 mils apart and up to 20 micron thick. However, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to employ the dimension of circuit line listed above, since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or working ranges involves only routine skill in the art. In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233.
